Theatrical and Musical.

BOWERY THEATRE.-Nothing can surpass the exitement created at this old and famous establishment, since the introduction of the grand spectacle of "Monte Cristo." Taken as a whole, either as regards seenery or acting, it is inimitable. The only way of proving assertion by writing is to visit the theatre, and it will then be seen that crowded and delighted audiences will confirm the truth of our assertion. The scenery is magnificent, and the acting throughout is such as to merit what it deserves—the unqualified approbation of the visiters. Mr. E. Eddy is a good actor; he reads smoothly, and rants very little, if any. He is likely to become one of the greatest favorites that ever appeared within the walls of this time honored Thespian temple. Miss C. Wemyss, like others who have been educated under the discerning eye of Mr. Hamblin, has now arrived at an envious position, and is always received with cheers. Miss S. Denin is admirable; Mr. Stevens as efficient as ever; Tilton wins favors every hour; and Winans, by his great comic ability, keeps the house in roars of laughter. In fine, those who visit the Bowery theatre will be amply repaid for their patronage.

Broadway Theatre.—The beautiful spectacle, the S. Wisson of the Sen." will service the desertions of the services ent, since the introduction of the grand spectacle of laughter. In fine, those who visit the Bowery theatre will be amply repaid for their patronage.

BROADWAY THEATRE.—The beautiful spectacle, the "Vision of the Sun," still continues to draw large and delighted audiences. The splender of the scenery, not to speak of the acting, which is always good, is sufficient to draw crowded houses. When a manager is enterprising and regardless of expense, in order to show his patrons that their pleasure and comfort is his real object, and in accomplishing this end that he is well repaid for his efforts, it is still to be recollected that although large audiences for a week or so may be said to repay him, yet it is not the fact, as it must have cost a large sum to place this piece effectively on the stage, and in such a way as to completely dazzle the beholders by us brilliancy. This grand and magnificent spectacle will again be produced this evening, when it is hoped the boxes will present a respectable appearance, in order to give assurance to the proprietor that his efforts are duly appreciated. Previous to the spectacle, the beautiful piece, entitled a "Morning Call," will be acted, with Mr. Conway, a fine comedian, as Sir Edward Ardent, and Miss Anderton, as Mrs. Chillington.

Ninco's Garden.—The entertainments at this spacious and beautiful establishment commence this evening with the "Washerwoman," in which the English vandeville company will appear. This company is directed by a very talented artist and great favorite. Mr. John Sefton. The next feature and that is truly a brilliant one, is the splendid ballet of "Catarina," which has been so generally admired, and calls forth every night the most enthusiastic cheers. To speak of the peculiar features, dazzling as they are, of this inimitable production would require more space than we can devote to it; suffice it to say, Caroline Rousset appears in it, and that itself is sufficient to crowd Niblo's. She is graceful in the extreme—moves with all the lightness and fascinating charms of a Peri—and is beyond all question the best general dansense we have ever seen. Her three sisters, although assuming minor characters, are all artists of the first stamp. So long as they continue to play at Niblo's, so long will they attract brilliant assemblages.

BURTON'S THEATEE.—We have so often pointed BURTON'S THEATEE .- We have so often pointed BURTON'S THEATTE.—We have so often pointed attention to the interesting features of the performances given every evening at this popular establishment, that it requires little more from us than to say, the entertainments are such as to keep pace with the talented efforts of the proprietor, W. E. Burton. He seems to know the peculiar wants of the people, and hence his great success. But he goes farther than this, for, although he possesses discernment to know what the peculiar taste of the age requires in dramatic productions, he still goes discernment to know what the peculiar taste of the age requires in dramatic productions, he still goes farther; and in order that those pieces should be effectively presented, he has around him artists of the first talent, who fill the respective characters with great truthfulness of representation. To-night the amusements consist of the "Morning Call," the "Hypocrite," and the never-triing piece called "The School for Tigers." If this bill don't draw an immense assemblage we will be much surprised.

NATIONAL THEATRE -The entertainments for NATIONAL THEATRE—The entertainments for this evening will commence with the farce of a "Pleasant Neighbor," and will be followed by one of the best pieces ever produced within the walls of this popular establishment. Nothing can surpass the grandeur of scenery presented in the gorgeous and magnificent spectacle of "Thalaba, the Destroyer, or the Burning Sword." From first to last it is brilliant in the extreme, and must have the effect of fully repaying the great enterprise of Mr. A. H. Purdy, who has been at an enormous expense in placing it upon the stage in such solen-

Mr. A. H. Purdy, who has been at an enormous expense in placing it upon the stage in such splendor and magnificence. Mr. Watkins sustains his part with admirable dramatic ability. Mr. Brandon is also clever; Miss Mestayer and Mrs. H. P. Grattan are also clever; and the ballet scene, directed by Miss Malvina, is beautiful. We advise those who take delight in spectacle to make a visito the National, where we promise them they will while away an evening in the utmost pleasure.

BROTGHAM'S LYCKUM.—This very prosperous and well managed theatre is going ahead. The performances give the greatest satisfaction. The beautiful opera, a translation from Donizetti, entitled the "Child of the Regiment," which has been produced very effectively, as regards scenic grandeur, good acting, fine vocalization, and excellent orchestral arrangements, by the celebrated George Loder, will commence the entertainments this evening. Mary Taylor as Marie, the "Child of the Regiment," fills the character in splendid style. She sings sweetly, and gives general pleasure and delight. M'lle Ducy-Barre will appear in a favorite polka, aided by Mr. G. W. Smith; and style. She sings sweetly, and gives general pleasure and delight. M'lle Ducy-Barre will appear in a favorite polka, aided by Mr. G. W. Smith; and the entertainments will conclude with the new local peculiarity, entitled "Row at the Lyceum."
Brougham, as a manager wishing to progress with the times, gives, as usual, unlimited satisfaction; and Lynne, as stage manager, is excellent. The other characters Mr. Dunn, Mrs. Vernon, Miss Gould, Mrs. Brougham, and Miss E. Taylor, are all sustained with admirable ability.

Cristy's Minstrells are attracting, as usual, crowded and delighted audiences. The programme for this evening contains an excellent selection of songs, instrumental pieces, dancing, burlesques, and wittleisms.

Fellows' Minstrels.—This excellent band, in conjunction with the New Orleans Serenaders, appear every evening at 444 Broadway. Their performances are very select, and well deserve the patronage of the public, Barnum's Museum.—The comedy of "The Serious Family," is still creating as great sensation as ever, and nightly the spacious saloon is crowded. The acting of Hadaway is excellent; Miss Sylvester is also a fine "Mrs. Charles Torrens." This production will be repeated to-night. A fine and pleasing afternoon performance occurs daily. Foday, a new domestic tale will be played, in which Kent, an excellent comedian, will appear.

THE ALLEGHANIANS sing again in Williamsburgh this evening. We advise all the lovers of good music to pay them a visit.

Scockservi, Huvensa Excussions is Carada.—The Montreal (Ca.) Gezette, of the 20th inst., says:—We have been kindly favored by a correspondent with an account of a bunting match in the county of shefford, from which we extract the following particulars: It appears that the good people of and about the neighborhood of Froste Village, came to the conclusion a few days ago, that there was rather noire game in the county than was needful or profitable for the crops; and after holding a council, arrived at the conclusion that they had better commence a war of extermination. At the meeting, Captain A. B. Foster and Captain A. Wood were unanimously appointed to extermination. At the meeting, Captain A. B. Foster and Captain A. Wood were unanimously appointed to take the arrangements in hand. It was agreed that they should choose seventy-ave men on each side, and after the expiration of a week, make a return of the game each party had killed. Saturday morning the 19th inst., was the day appointed for counting the slain, and a committee was chosen by the respective parties for this purpose. The following result was made known:—

A convention of free colored people assembled at Cambridge, Md., on the 25th ult., resolved to send two persons to Liberia, to examine and report upon the condition of things in that republic, with a view to decide a pon the propriety of removing to that country.

The Late Hon. Henry Adams Bullard, of Louisiana.

[From the New Orleans Crescent, April 19.]

A sense of duty, heightened by personal friendship, leads us to attempt a brief sketch of Henry Adams Bullard, whose death we recorded yesterday. He was born in Groton, Massachusetts—of which town his father was the minister—on September 9th, 1788. On the mother's side, he was closely connected with the distinguished family whose name he bears. He was educated at Harvard University, and graduated in the class of 1807, at the age of nineteen. At the time, French was the only modern language taught in that institution. But while he pursued his law studies, both in Boston and Philadelphia, he acquired the Spanish, Italian and German, all of which he critically understood and appreciated. It is only a few months since, we found him and his son reading Mifflin's Tasso, with the original, and heard from his "unpremeditated talk," an essay on the "Jerusalem," which would have furnished a professional lecturer with an evening's dissertation.

In Philadelphia, the acquaintances formed through his knowledge of the Spanish, brought him in contact with Gen. Toledo, who was organizing an expedition to revolutionize New Mexico. Judge Bullard, then just admitted to the bar, joined him as an aid and military secretary, and proceeded with him to Nashville, where he passed the winter of 1812. The following spring he accompanied Gen. Toledo and the recruits to Natchitoches, which was the starting point. They entered the Mexican territory, and found the people already in anns, and the royal troops driven out of what now constitutes Texas, except the force in San Antonio; but these retired at the approach of the republicans. Here they remained several weeks, until the Spanish General, having concentrated an overwhelming force, defeated the republicans in a pitched battle.

arms, and the royal troops driven out of what now constitutes Texas, except the force in San Antonio; but these retired at the approach of the republicans. Here they remained several weeks, until the Spanish General, having concentrated an overwhelming force, defeated the republicans in a pitched battle, and scattered their forces in every direction. Judge Bullard was mounted, and, with one or two companions, managed to reach the American settlements, after suffering severe hardships. When he entered Natchitoches he was ragged, sick—broken down by fatigue and privation, and, worse than all, penniless. Here he opened an office, and commenced the practice of his profession. The practice was larrative, and the bar numbered more talent and learning than at any subsequent period. The names of Wilson, Johnston, Brent, Porter, Bowen, Bronson, Thomas, and Bullard, would have done honor to any bar. Of these, Gen. Isaac Thums alone survive. It was a life of great physical hardship, yet one of much enjoyment.

In 1822, Judge Bullard went upon the District Court Bench, and performed its duties for several years, when he resigned; but, after a year or two, returned. In 1831, he was elected to Congress, from the Western district, and re-elected the next term. In 1834, he was elected to the Supreme Eench, taking the place of Judge Porter, who went into the Senate of the United States. In Congress, Judge Bullard was not among the debaters. He spoke occasionally on great questions, and after careful preparation. If its most elaborate speech was on the tariff bill, in 1832.

He remained on the Supreme Bench from 1834 till 1846, with the exception of a few months in 1839, when he filed the office of Secretary of State, and resumed the practice of his profession. Under the constitution of 1845, a new judiciary was created, and not one of the members of the Supreme Court retained. He returned to the practice in this city, and was retained in much of the important litigation of the State. His decisions are models of judicial rhetori

Senator Summer and Free Sollism.—The following letter was written by Mr. Summer to the Chairman of the Senaro Summe and Free Somes.—The following letter was written by Mr. Summer to the Chairman of the Free Soil Committee of the Massachusetts Legislator, on his first nomination for the Senatorship:—

Boston, Saturday, Feb. 22, 1851.

I desire to repeat to you, in writing, what I have so constantly said to you and others by word of mouth. Early in life I formed a determination never to hold any political office, and, of course, never to be a candidate for any. My hope was (might I so aspire) to show that, without its titles and emoluments, something might be done for the good of my fellow men. Notwithstanding the strength of this determination, often declared. I have by the confidence of the friends of freedom in Beston, more than once been pressed into the position of candidate; and now, by the nomination of the free soil and democratic members of the Legislature of Massachusetts, contrary to my desires, specially made known to all who communicated with me on the subject. I have been brought forward as their candidate for the Senate of the United States. Pardon mei fi say, that personal regrets mingle with my gratitude for the honor that has been done me. The office of Senator, though elevated and important, is to me less attractive than other and more quiet fields of labor. Besides, there are members of our party, valued associates in our severe struggle, to whom I gladly defer, as representatives of the principles which we all have at heart. I trust, therefore, that the friends of freedom in the Legislature will not hesitate, on any ground of delicacy toward me, to transfer their support to some other candidate faithful to our cause. In this matter, I pray you, do not think of me. I have no political propers which I desire to nurse. There is nothing in the political field which I covet. Abandon me, then, whenever you think best, without notice or apology. The cause is everything; I am nothing. I rely upon you in some proper way to communicate this note to the free soil members of the Legislature. Believe me, m

ALABAMA AND THE UNION.—At a Union meeting recently held at Mobile, the following were among the resolutions adopted:—

That in this spirit we have maturely considered the action of Congress, embracing a series of measures—for the admission of California into the Union, the organization of territorial governments for Utah and New Mexico, the establishmant of a boundary between the latter and the State of Texas, the suppression of the slave trade in the District of Columbia, and the extradition of territorial governments for Utah and New Hexico, the establishmant of a boundary between the latter and the State of Texas, the suppression of the slave trade in the District of Columbia—and whilst we do not wholly approve, will abide by it as a permanent adjustment of this sectional controversy.

That Alabama in our judgment, will and ought to resist, even (as a last resort) to a disruption of every tie which binds her to the Union, any action of Congress, incompatible with the safety, domestic tranquillity, the rights and honor of the slaveholding States, or in any refusal to admit as a State any territory hereafter applying because of the existence of slavery therein, or in any act prohibiting the introduction of slaves into the territories of Utah and New Mexico, or in any act prohibiting the introduction of slaves into the territories of Utah and New Mexico, or in any act prohibiting the introduction of slavery in force for the resovery of fugitive slaves.

C OMFORT FOR THE AGED. THE MONTREAL Transcript, one of the best papers in Canada, speaking of Wistafre's Balsam of Wist dherry, June 18, 1839, says.—We believe it to be generally recognized as a neefal medicine by needleal men, and we can state with perfect truth and sincerity, that in one cass with which we are more particularly acquainted—that of an old gentleman, at least cightly years of age, reciding a few miles from this city, and who is troubled with an asthmatical complaint, the most decided relief is obtained whenever he makes use of the balsam. This, at the advanced period of life which he has arrived at, may be considered an unanswerable proof of its virtues. From the Boton Daily Bee.—From some little experience of our own, we testify the superiority of the Balsam of Wild Cherry, and we have been repeatedly assured by quite a number of our personal friends who have used it with success in pulmonary complaints, the phthisic, asthma, might sweats, &c., that they regard it as one of the most beneficial remedial agents of the time. Seth W. Fowbe, druggist, No. 138 Washington at, Boston, Mass., is the sole proprietor of the original recipit for the manufacture of the genuine medicine, and supplies both at whole-sals and retail, and of whom agencies can be obtained.
